

Salem Five's Louise Mallett appointed President of the Greater Medford VNA Bd. of directors

Louise Mallett

Salem Five Bank President and CEO Joseph M. Gibbons announced that Louise Mallett, Vice President, Retirement Services, has been appointed to the position of President of the Board of Directors for the Greater Medford Visiting Nursing Association.

"Salem Five prides itself on being a part of the communities that we serve," said Mr. Gibbons. "This is evidence through staff involvement with numerous local non-profit organizations and Louise is a shining example of helping others beyond her Salem Five responsibilities. We congratulate her accomplishments with the Greater Medford VNA."

As Chairman, Ms. Mallett's work with the Greater Medford VNA will include overseeing the board, working closely with the Executive Director on policy, planning and strategy to help achieve the mission. Ms. Mallett has served on the board since 2005.

"I am looking forward to this challenge," said Ms. Mallett. "It is a great group and I am honored to be chosen to help guide the group."

The Greater Medford VNA is a non-profit organization that provides home health care and community health programs. The GMVNA has deep roots in the community and is one of the few independent visiting nursing associations left in Massachusetts.

This mission of the Greater Medford VNA is health promotion and disease prevention and to be trusted by both health care professionals and patients alike. The Greater Medford VNA will celebrate its 110th anniversary in 2010. You can learn more about the Greater Medford Visiting Nursing Association by visiting www.gmvna.org.

Ms. Mallett has been employed by Salem Five for 17 years. She currently resides in Malden.
