Charities | Greater Medford Visiting Nurse's Association

The Greater Medford Visiting Nursing Association & Additional Care (GMVNA) is a non-profit organization that has been providing home health care and community health programs for more than a century. With deep roots in the community, the GMVNA supports area residents through elder outreach, public health initiatives, private duty services and caregiver support programs. In turn, the community has always returned its support by choosing GMVNA for its home care needs.

The organization's vision is to be the preferred provider of home health care services in the Greater Medford area by consistently delivering comprehensive, high quality, compassionate care and responsive customer service. GMVNA strives to become the standard by which local home health care services are measured.

GMVNA's highly trained staff provides sophisticated, coordinated health care at home. They work closely with the patient, caregivers, and physicians to ensure that patient care needs are being met. Care is provided with respect for the patient, their home and their dignity.
